

Hello again MKs!

I love hearing from you all, and getting pictures from you! Thanks to all of you who have written me and/or sent me pictures. Recently I received a link to a song (MP3) written about being an MK. Special thanks to Callie Bonin for sending me that link! Listen to it yourself at <http://edunex.org/sitebuildercontent/sitebuilderfiles/MKsong.mp3>. It really is a fun song!

Let me also remind you to sign up for the MK missions trip to Honduras this summer! If you are going to be on furlough – it would be a perfect time for you to go on a missions trip. Contact me if you are interested in going.

Sunday in church my pastor, Ted Cederblom (MK to Panama & DR), spoke on the sin of hypocrisy. He is doing a series entitled “CSI: Springfield.” One of the main crimes in the church is hypocrisy. You will all be receiving the recent issue of our Communiqué in the mail soon – which is focused on masks. We all wear different masks at times, because we want people to think certain things of us. We ALL want to be seen in a positive manner! However, it is always good to be reminded that God looks at the heart. He sees what is truly inside of our heart – not what we try and make ourselves look like. Thankfully, God is merciful! He knows that we are not perfect, and yet He loves us!

I was able to pray with someone at church this week (our pastor would call him a “pre-believer”). I asked him how I could pray with him. His biggest concern was that he had to “get his life together” so God would accept him. What a lie of the enemy! That is exactly why Christ came and died on the cross for us! We can never get our own lives together! Without Christ, we could never make it.

My thought for you today is simple. God sees who you really are, and He loves you! In spite of your imperfections (assuming you are imperfect, like me) He died for us! Today we can take off our masks, be real, and accept His love.
