

“Though I”

Though I feel so lonely,
You are always there.
Though I grew up in constant change,
You were always there.
Though I have none to reminisce with,
You tell me how much you love me,
You tell me of how you have taken me through.
Though I claim not Best friends,
You died to be my Best Friend.
Though I say very little and ask even less,
You know my every word by heart.
Though I don't always know shy,
You are with me and why doesn't matter.
Though I long for deep and meaningful relationship,
You promise to fulfill me, restore my joy and heal my heart.
Though I wonder where everyone is,
You hold me in your arms and say “I'm here”.
Though I easily forget you,
You quickly remind me of Your love.
Though I never know How,
You always provide for my every need,
You have always loved me and you will never stop.

“You and I”

You are Beautiful Jesus,
I will always love you.
You have broken my sin,
I will forever live in Freedom.
You hold my shattered Heart,
I can feel the warmth of yours.
You are always holding me,
I have nothing to fear in these arms.
You are the source of life,
I live because of you.
You are my reward,
I will be forever thankful.
You are mine,
I am Yours.
You are my hope,
I am your Joy.
You are everything,
I cannot even begin to comprehend this.
You are here,
I need you.
You are my friend,
I am your prize.
You Heal,
I receive.
Your heart is open,
I now come in.
You are mine,
I am Yours.

by Daniel Johansen